PRESS RELEASE

CHARLES & KEITH FALL WINTER 2026 CAMPAIGN COLLECTION LIGHT BEYOND THE HORIZON

SINGAPORE, 7 August 2026 – The CHARLES & KEITH Fall Winter 2026 campaign collection is a reflection on transformation, renewal, and the quiet beauty found in moments of transition. Titled Light Beyond the Horizon, the season explores the space between endings and new beginnings, where layers of the past gently fall away to reveal clarity and hope.

As the season slows, there is a gentle unraveling — where chaos softens into stillness, refuge, and protection. The campaign captures this passage, moving between exposure and shelter, weight and lightness, structure and fluidity, as old remnants are stripped back and refinement gives way to new form, carrying a quiet sense of hope. In this cycle, there is beauty in release, and the promise of renewal.

The accompanying campaign channels a rogue renaissance spirit, where edge meets modern craft through a refined, contemporary lens. Hybrid styling, modular functionality, and season-worn textures come together to create a wardrobe of adaptable essentials. The collection celebrates transitions through pieces that feel both familiar and unexpected, balancing practicality with a refined sense of self-expression.

Leading the collection, the Large Ginevra Tote is resolved into form. In hand, over the arm, or carried close, it shapes beautifully to every movement. Designed to accompany daily routines with ease, the Ginevra reimagines the work bag and offers a polished companion that transits effortlessly between professional and personal moments. Alongside the tote, the collection introduces a range of handbags defined by tonal depth, and nuanced proportions, from softly structured shoulder bags and hobos to denim-textured silhouettes.

Complementing the bags, the Aether Mary Janes juxtapose refinement with rebellion, reworking the language of the classic flat through controlled interruption. Grommet and stud embellishments punctuate the collection with a subtle edge, while clean, considered lines ensure versatility across occasions. The footwear collection continues this dialogue through loafers, knee-high boots, sculptural heels, and flats rendered in a rich palette of dark browns, blacks, and burnished leather.

Adding a playful finishing touch, the seasonal charm collection draws inspiration from the warmth and nostalgia of autumn. Whimsical accents in deep shades of brown feature playful dog charms, woodland-inspired animals, and nature-inspired motifs including acorns and pinecones. Blending cozy seasonal textures with a subtle sense of individuality, each charm is designed to add personality and character to everyday bags, encouraging wearers to make each piece uniquely their own.

The new CHARLES & KEITH Fall Winter 2026 collection will be available in retail stores and on CHARLESKEITH.COM from 11 August 2026 onwards.
